LLOYD GEORGE IN PARIS WITH PLAN TO SPLIT AREA

Premier Apprehensive That Any Other Solution Would Create New Alsace-Lorraine,

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, August 8.—Consultation relative to the Upper Silesian question took place here today between the heads of various government delegations to the meeting of the supreme allied council, preliminary to the first session of the council this afternoon. It was hoped to present at the first meeting of the body the views of France, Great Britain and Italy, which have been divergent thus far.

have been divergent thus far.

Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain took dinner with Premier Briand last night, and later the two statesmen had a long conference. It was assumed that an attempt was made by them to adjust the conflicting positions of their governments relative to Upper Silesia, so that the work of the supreme council might be expedited. This morning's meeting of the council was not held, as was planned, because Premier Bonomi of Italy had not arrived in time to participate in it.

Meighen Calls Britain Greatest Factor in All World for Peace

All World for Peace

HALIFAX, N. S. August 7.—
Great Britain was declared to be the greatest factor in the world today for preserving peace by Premier Arthur Meighen of Canada, who arrived here Saturday after several weeks spent in London in conference with the prime ministers of various sections of the British empire.

"You cannot in these days," he said, "have peace anywhere unless you have at least substantial peace in Europe. The influence of British statesmen in the councils of the world is greater because the dominions and India are within the compire and because she reflects, or wants to reflect, their views as well as she can."

The steady growth of the city since the completion of the District building has been accompanied by a corresponding increase in the volume of municipal business. Aside from this natural growth, new agencies have been created since the present structure was built.

The Public Utilities Commission, established eight years ago, had to have space in the District building.

The minimum wage board, formed a few years ago, also took quarters in the District building.

More space could be utilized in the District building by splitting up the personnel of certain departments, said Maj. Besson, but this is not desired by department heads.

SECRETARY HUGHES AGREES TO POSE FOR PORTRAIT, AT ITALIANS' REQUEST

Secretary Hughes has consented to pose for an oil portrait which is to be presented by 100,000 Italian citizens of the United States to the government of Italy as a special mark of esteem of the Italians in both countries. The painting is to be done by Gluseppe Trotta, a distinguished artist of Italy, who expects to begin the work in'a few days and complete it before the conference for the limitation of armaments begins its sessions in this city.

The movement among the Italians to present Secretary Hughes' portrait to the Italian government was prompted not only by their desire to pay a personal tribute to Mr. Hughes but also by a growing sentiment of friendliness and understanding between Italy and the Hutted of friendiness and understanding between Italy and the United States. Mr. Hughes has endeared himself particularly to that element by what he has done to promote closer relations between the two countries, especially while he served as president of the Italy-

America Society. The plan was originated in the Italian colony in yew York city. It met with such immediate approval that a general committee was appointed to further it. Justice John J. Freschi of the court of special sessions is chairman of the committee. Among its members are Florella H. L. La Guardia, president of the board of aldermen; State Senator Salvatore Cotilla, Prof. Angelo Patri and Dr. Pasquale Badia. The request for Secretary Hughes to pose for his portrait was made after the committee had ascertained through the Italian ambassador at Washington that the proposed gift would be most acceptable to the Italian government.
